The Tribe of Shabazz

"We are so far from what is actually natural for the Blackman, that we think that the trial-and-error mode of operating of this civilization today is brilliance; when in fact, the incidental actions of the Original Blackman is considered SUPERNATURAL by today's standards."

The Honorable Elijah Muhammed

Explanation of Terms:

Esoteric – Intended to be revealed only to the Initiates of a group; knowledge understood by a select few

Cosmogonic Myths

A creation myth (cosmogonic myth) is a symbolic narrative of how the world began and how people first came to inhabit it. In ancient Khmt, the people ascribed a degree of truth to the creation myths unlike in contemporary societies

Ancient Kemetic Astrology

Ancient Kemetic Astrology is not the same astrology we use today because it had a different function such as:

- 1) Used for predicting planetary shifts that affected nature's cycles like how the moon affects the tides.
- 2) This information helped with planning agriculture, predicting droughts or famines
- 3) Looking for auspicious days for rituals and deciphering omens
- 4) Most astrological work centered around the Nswt Bty (King)

Decantic Astrology

The ancient Kemetians divided the year into 12 months of 30 days each, and then each month was divided into three parts of 10, each called a decan or decante. The literal meaning of the word decan is "ten days apart" or "group of ten". The start of the cycle began with the heliacal rising of the star Sirius.

Each decan was based on a small constellation of stars. Every 10 days, a new constellation would have a heliacal rising. A total of 36 decans were observed (36 x 10 = 360 days). The extra five days were added at the end in the ancient Kemetic calendar and constituted a time out of time.

Helical rising, by the way, means the rising of a celestial object at the same time as the sun, or its first visible rising after a period of invisibility due to conjunction with the sun. The last setting before such a period is the heliacal setting.

ANCIENT KEMETIC ZODIAC

Charles Dupuis, a pre-French Revolution scholar believed Kemetic astrology originated as far back as 14,000 years ago; 10,000 years earlier than the commonly accepted timeline of 4000 BC

The Dendera Zodiac portrayed the ecliptic of the sun, which refers to the circular path of the sun's orbit. The configuration of the patterns on the zodiac indicated a strange feature; the arrangement of the constellations shows a date that occurred at least 650 years prior to construction of the zodiac itself. The solstice between Gemini-Cancer shows the position of an ecliptic that should have existed in 650 BC. French scholars believed the Dendera Zodiac to be thousands of years older than the Biblical date of creation.

Ancient Kemetic Astronomy

Ancient Kemetians were drawn to two bright stars that always could be seen circling the North Pole. The Kemetians referred to those stars as "the indestructible." Today we know them as Kochab, in the bowl of the Little Dipper (Ursa Minor), and Mizar, in the middle of the handle of the Big Dipper (Ursa Major).

Kemetians aligned their pyramids and temples toward the north because they believed their pharaohs became stars in the northern sky after they died. To assure that a king would join the circumpolar stars, the pyramids were laid out facing due north toward the "indestructible" stars. They thought that aligning the pyramids toward north gave the deceased pharaohs direct access to the northern sky. When one star was exactly above the other in the sky, astronomers could find a line that pointed due north. That alignment was only true for a few years around 2,500 B.C.

The Wobble (The Precession)

The Earth's axis is unstable. Our planet wobbles like a gyroscope over a period of 26,000 years. Modern astronomers now know that the celestial north pole was exactly aligned between Kochab and Mizar only in the year 2467 B.C. Before or after that date, the Kemetic astronomers would have been less accurate as they tried to mark true north. Nearly 4,500 years ago, in the year 2467 B.C., the "indestructible" stars lay precisely along a straight line that included the celestial pole. The Earth rotates from west to east on its polar axis and revolves about the sun in an elliptical orbit with the sun at one focus of the ellipse. It completes one revolution in a period of 365.2564 days. The inclination of the Earth (23½ degrees with the perpendicular to the orbital plane), combined with its revolution around the sun, causes the lengths of day and night to change and also causes the different seasons.

Eschatology (in theology) The word eschatology is derived from the Greek (last) and means the science of the last things. Individual eschatology treats of death, particular judgment, purgatory, heaven, and hell; collective eschatology, of the end of the world

What is the Rau Nu Pert em Hru (Kemetic Book of the Dead)

Rau = words, teachings, liturgy

Nu = of

Prt or Pert = going out

Em or m = as or through

Hru or Heru = Spiritual Light of Enlightened Being (the Ntr Heru)

Translated as: "The Word Utterances for Coming into the Spiritual Light (Enlightenment) or Becoming one with Heru."

The Book of Coming Forth By Day (Pert em Heru) scriptures and purpose evolved from the Pyramid Texts. The utterances recorded in the MDW NTR was the way that the initiate was able to transform their consciousness from human to divine, by purifying the mind with wisdom about the Neteru

The Ogdoad of the Pyramid Texts

The Ogdoad, also called the Hehu or Infinities, were the celestial rulers of Old Kingdom long before the current Kemetic religious system was recognized. “The Ogdoad were concerned with the preservation and flourishing of the celestial world, and later—as well as indirectly—the formation of the human race.”

Traces of their pantheon permeated down to the next set of Netchru, correlating the formation of the human race with the hands of the Ogdoad.

The Ogdoad predate the more commonly known Kemetic Netchru, such as Osiris (Isr), his sister wife Isis (Ist), and the emissary of the underworld, Anubis (Anpu). Considered to have come into creation before the world did, the Ogdoad consist of four couples—eight individual forces—who balance one another and the nature of the cosmos. Each pair correlated with one of the primary elements of the universe in the Kemetic belief system, i.e., water, air, light, and time.

- Nu and Naunet represented the development and continued renewal of the primordial waters of the universe.
- Amun and Amaunet – invisibility represented by air,
- Kuk and Kauket – represented infinite darkness
- Huh and Hauhet, the last pair, were weighted with the responsibility of maintaining eternity and infinity.
- The first name is the divine masculine with the second name being it's feminine consort thereby creating an equal balance of genders

Cosmic Consciousness and Astronomy

In Ancient Khmt, Astronomy and astrology were, for them, two sides of the same coin. It was the study of correspondences between events in the heavens and events on earth.

Ancient Kemetic records of all subject matters show a complete coordination and correspondence between Ancient Kemetians activities on earth and the various cycles of the universe. Temple priests were assigned the task of observing the movements of all heavenly bodies. They were also responsible for noting other celestial events and interpreting them.
